

Hundreds of Norwalk residents gathered on the Civic Center Lawn Wednesday night to stand up against crime and celebrate summer during the annual ‘National Night Out’ and Summer Concert Series.

Each August, communities across the country come together to support local crime prevention while building police-community partnerships to enhance safety and improve quality of life.

This year, Norwalk collaborated with the L.A. County Sheriff’s Department, California Highway Patrol, Helpline Youth Counseling, Cerritos College Police Department, and other agencies to provide safety resources to residents.

The city hosted ‘National Night Out’ alongside its Summer Concert Series. The featured artist was popular Latin R&B band Soto.

Shared Stories: The Ties That Bind

Sharon Benson Smith finds comfort in writing a tribute to her sister Phyllis, who remained strong, cheerful, and hard-working despite some unimaginable tragedies in her life. Shared Stories is a weekly column featuring articles by participants in a writing class at the Norwalk Senior Center. Bonnie Mansell is the instructor for this free class offered through the Cerritos College Adult Education Program. Curated by Carol Kearns

‘My Sister Phyllis’ by Sharon Benson Smith

The life story of my late sister Phyllis, nicknamed Foddy, I believe, is the ultimate in forbearance and fortitude, and any other adjective in Webster’s Dictionary that describes picking yourself up, dusting yourself off, and finding the courage to carry on.

I won’t even go into the disastrous first marriage to the father of her three sons. She was separated from her second husband of several years, and was adamant about not continuing in the dysfunctional marriage.

He was so very depressed about her decision not to reconcile that when she came home from work one day, she found him dead on their kitchen floor. As if that weren’t enough, her tests in life would be compounded by the most devastating of life’s losses – that of a child – but in her case it was two.

She lost her Scott at the age of 23 to a motorcycle accident (he was not yet married). And, almost one month to the day later, she lost her Randy at the age of 21 to a car accident. Randy was married and had two small children.

Phyllis lived across the street from Randy and his family, and was very attached to her grandchildren.

Phyllis’s remaining son Larry, who was the oldest, never got over the loss of his brothers, often feeling as though it should have been him instead of them due to his life style. And now, 25 years after his brothers’ passing and six years after his mother’s passing, it appears he is getting his life on track. How I pray to God that Phyllis can see his progress from Heavenly places.

Grief stricken, as you can well imagine, Phyllis looked to support groups to deal with her loss, but she found no solace. Others were there for the support of the loss of one child – the loss of two was unfathomable. They had no words for dealing with the depth of her loss. She eventually gave up on support groups.

Phyllis even freaked out a psychiatrist or two along the path of dealing with her grief. And, I must admit, even family members were puzzled at how best to handle the situation. We were there for her, physically, but what do you say to a sister who has lost two children while yours are thriving, getting along in life, and you’re thanking God for your blessings?

Then, as if life hadn’t already dealt her the worst possible hand ever, for reasons she would know one day, her daughter-in-law would not allow Phyllis to see the grandchildren! Well, fighter that Phyllis was, when she had enough of trying to see them and being refused, she hired a lawyer, and went to court for grandparents’ rights – and WON! She was considered to be a pioneer of this movement.

The daughter-in-law then decided to pull up stakes and move to Florida with the children. It would be several years before Phyllis would see them again, but the bond between Grandma and her grandchildren was so strongly forged that they would eventually reunite.

As the kids grew up, they wanted and missed that special relationship they had with their grandma. Phyllis’s grandson phoned and visited her often from the state of Arizona. The granddaughter had two children of her own whom Phyllis visited in the state of Missouri during vacation time from her job.

And, guess what – even the daughter-in-law apologized and asked forgiveness for her past treatment of this lady who just wanted to love and be a part of her grandchildren’s lives.

Despite all of the tragedy in her life, Phyllis continued to meet all of her responsibilities. If you saw my sister in the office at work, I know she was there on time, and would get the coffee started.

And, I know that after she got her work done, she’d offer to help others with their workload. My mind’s eye sees her very fashionably dressed, wearing makeup and jewelry (two of her weaknesses). She would have liked to have been able to wear heels, stilettos of course, but couldn’t do so after her auto accident (and that’s another story I won’t go into just now).

Without a doubt, Phyllis would be joking and making you laugh with her cute ways and comical antics, like saying at the end of the workday: “let’s get the hell out of Dodge.”

My sister got on with the business of life as best she could, and like a circus clown, wore a smile on her face for others around her even though there lay profound sadness in her heart.

Norwalk City Council still divided on how to fill Marcel Rodarte’s open seat

By Alex Dominguez Contributor

NORWALK – The Norwalk City Council still remains split concerning former Councilmember Marcel Rodarte’s vacated seat, and as such was not able to come to a decision on how to fill the empty seat at Tuesday’s council meeting.

Former Councilmember Rodarte resigned from his position earlier this year in order to accept a job as executive director of California Cities Association.

City Council currently has two options to fill the now empty seat. Those are:

City Council may, within 60 days of the vacancy, make an appointment to fill the vacancy. Because the vacancy occurred within the first half of Rodarte’s term, the person appointed to fill the vacancy would hold office until the next general municipal election, which is March 7, 2017.

At that time, the appointed person, should they desire to continue in office, would have to run for office to retain the seat through the remainder of the term, which will end March 19, 2019.

In option two, the City Council may choose to call for a special election to fill the office for a term to expire March 19, 2019. The special election must be held at the next regularly established election date not less than 114 days from the call of the special election, which would now be March 7, 2017.

This is also the City’s next regular municipal election to elect two members of the City Council. If this option is selected, the ballot would list three City Council seats; two full four-year terms and one two-year term.

Council members and city residents are alike have shown growing concern over the currently four member council and the ability to quickly fill the empty seat, as all decisions passed require a majority vote.

Councilmember Leonard Shryock reminded both his fellow elected officials and those in attendance at Tuesday’s meeting that despite the issue’s importance and need for resolution, the council has proven that they can work together despite the current vacancy, already passing several items since Rodarte’s departure.

“We’ve voted on some 60 plus items...” said Shryock. “...We’ve already proven we can work together. The city issues are too important to be deadlocked...”

However, almost ironically, discussion of the issue had quickly become heated even before Shryock’s comments, especially between Councilmember Luigi Vernola, who favors option one, and Vice Mayor Cheri Kelley who is calling for option two.

Specifically, Kelley believes that the public should be allowed to vote for Rodarte’s replacement. However, Vernola fired back with the possibility of deadlocked issues in the coming months.

“I see this as an opportunity to continue the good work that we’re doing,” said Vernola. “There are going to be issues – important issues – that we may disagree on. And if we have another vote here, another individual sitting here for the next six to seven months, it might help break a deadlock...”

The final salvo came with a comment from Vice Mayor Kelley.

“Speaking about Marcel and ‘if he were here,’ well, Marcel was here after he resigned and did tell us how he wanted us to move forward, and that was to have an election,” said Kelley.

Seemingly no progress towards an answer was made during Tuesday’s meeting, as a motion for special election made by Vice Mayor Kelley fell to a 2-2 decision, with Mayor Mike Mendez and Councilmember Vernola voting against.

The city council still has until Aug. 29 to take action. The next meeting is Aug. 16.

NLMUD’s migrant education students usher in Summer Olympics in showcase

NORWALK – More than 100 students from Norwalk-La Mirada Unified School District’s migrant education program sang songs of unity for their parents and celebrated the Olympics during an open house at Edmondson Elementary School on July 19.

The event marked the end of the migrant education program’s summer session. A 10-week Saturday session will commence in the fall.

Glazier Elementary School first-grade teacher Bradley Erickson was the program’s music instructor and coordinated the performance of pre-kindergarteners through sixth-graders.

“The students are excited to come to music class every day,” Erickson said. “I feel privileged to pass to them the same kind of inspiration I received as a child.”

The music and dance showcase began with pre-kindergartners and first-graders performing a traditional “La Raspa” dance. Second- and third-graders followed by singing, “Follow a Dream” and “Give It Your Best.” Fourth- to sixth-graders completed the show by performing the Olympic Theme on drums, recorders and keyboards, then staged a spirited version of “Alabama Girl.”

“The migrant education program is a wonderful example of the District providing student opportunities of access and equity while giving them a sense of connectedness within our community,” NLMUSD Superintendent Dr. Hasmik Danielian said. “Our students should have every opportunity to succeed, regardless of their background.”

Students have been able to enroll in the migrant education program for more than 20 years. NLMUSD teachers create their own curriculum, which focuses on bolstering literacy and communication skills, primarily through non-fiction reading. Students of all grade levels are encouraged to work in teams, research subjects on iPads and expand their vocabulary.

Norwalk-La Mirada Unified’s migrant education students hold Olympic torches high in the air while singing “Hand in Hand” during a showcase performance held at Edmondson Elementary School.

“The students are such a joy to watch as they discover what they are capable of,” NLMUSD Director of State and Federal Programs Mercedes Lovie said to parents at the performance.

“We ask you to reach out to your friends and family to share our program at Norwalk-La Mirada, so we can serve more students from our community.”

This summer, teachers used the upcoming Olympic games as an inspiration for daily studies. Parents were invited into classrooms to see their children’s completed summer projects after the open house performance.

County Sheriff’s DUI checkpoint in Norwalk nets two arrests

NORWALK – The Los Angeles County Sheriff Traffic Services Detail conducted a DUI and driver’s license checkpoint at Imperial Highway and Bloomfield Avenue last Friday ending with two arrests.

Between the hours of 6 p.m. and 2 a.m., deputies screened 1,547 vehicles. One driver was arrested for a driving under the influence (DUI) violation and another was arrested and cited for operating a vehicle while unlicensed. Deputies said a third driver was also given a citation and one person’s vehicle was impounded for 30 days.

Checkpoints are placed in locations that have the greatest opportunity for achieving drunk and drugged driving deterrence and provide the greatest safety for officers and the public. DUI/driver’s license checkpoints have been shown to lower DUI deaths and injuries, according to LASD officials. A major component of these checkpoints are the deterrent effects it has on those who might drive drunk, drugged, or impaired, bringing about more awareness and encouraging everyone to use sober designated drivers.

Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Department Traffic Services Detail will conduct another DUI/driver’s license checkpoint tonight at an undisclosed location in Norwalk.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien,

You should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are not necessarily responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the lender is not to hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924d of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those who may be affected by the postponement, whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site, www.nationwideposting.com, for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, T.S.# 9986-9278. Information about postponements that are very short in duration and that do not affect the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to the ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, amount and status of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgage beneficiary, trustor, or a court order from the Superior Court of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 or visit this Internet Web site: www.AmericanTrustee.com. The Norwalk City Council on Tuesday honored businesses in the city of Norwalk for participating in Helpline Youth Counseling's "Merchant Committed" Program.

Norwalk businesses commit to helping stop underage drinking

Contributed by Helpline Youth Counseling

NORWALK – The city of Norwalk and the Chamber of Commerce have endorsed the Prevention Team from Helpline Youth Counseling in their efforts to decrease the accessibility of alcohol to minors in the city.

The program, which is called Merchant Committed Program, partners with stores that sell alcohol. These stores are also known as ‘off-sale retailers.’ As a result of these efforts, 14 stores in Norwalk have committed to the program.

There are 3 different star levels to the Merchant Committed Program that have specific requirements that must be met in order for a store to qualify. Each star level is earned through the store's actions and efforts to reduce underage access to alcohol in their retail stores.

When those requirements are met, stores can pledge to their qualifying Star levels– 1 Star is the most basic of the three, however, it is the most important.

1 Star: Retailer pledges that all employees in the store will attend a Responsible Beverage Service (RBS) training once a year. Responsible Beverage Service training helps retailers stay up to date on Alcohol Beverage Control's (ABC) rules and local regulations; which in turn protects their business and reduces underage drinking. RBS is essential for any retailer who works with alcohol as the rules regarding its sales can be complicated.

2 Star: In addition to 1 Star level, retailer pledges to implement a written policy that states current and future employees are RBS trained. Retailers will also voluntarily make changes to the layout of their stores such as: removing all holiday alcoholic promotions and displays, not use alcohol for display in front of refrigerated cases, move alcoholic items from exits, end-caps, and make sure that alcohol is separate from groceries and items children might buy. Additionally, 2 Star retailers post "WE I.D" stickers and reduce their advertising so that no more than 33% of their window-space is covered. These steps reduce the visibility of alcohol to youth. A 2 Star level tells the city that the business is serious about reducing underage drinking

3 Star: Including requirements from 1 and 2 Star levels, the retailer pledges to remove all alcoholic ads, promos, and advertising from inside and outside of the store. Essentially, the retail outlet becomes a safe and inviting place for all community members to stop and shop.

The 11 Merchant Committed stores have made it their priority to check ID and train themselves and their staff on the state and city laws; they are making these pledges to help create a healthier community. Look for this sticker at the door:

Continuing our efforts to reduce underage drinking in Norway, it would not have been possible without the partnerships of special people, agencies, and businesses that made a commitment and helped us along the way. For our retailers, we understand it was not easy to allow the Helpline Prevention Team to walk into your stores and talk about youth alcohol prevention, but you listened and cooperated. We spoke to you about making a difference and you responded. You all deserve a big thank you.

PIH receives community health grant

WHITTIER – PIH Health announced on Tuesday the receipt of a $100,000 grant from the California Community Foundation (CCF). The grant funding will support PIH Health's efforts to bring together community-based organizations and foster collaboration to address identified community health needs and reduce health disparities.

“We are grateful to the California Community Foundation for their support,” says James R. West, PIH Health president and chief executive officer. “These funds will allow us to facilitate collaboration amongst local community organizations to further improve the health and well-being of those living in our communities.”
