Norwalk High educator named Teacher of the Year

► Elizabeth Gonzalez earns Project Lead the Way's Teacher of the Year honors for 2018.

NORWALK – Elizabeth Gonzalez, a veteran educator at Norwalk High School, has been named Project Lead the Way's California Biomedical Sciences Teacher of the Year for 2018.

Gonzalez, who has taught in the Norwalk-La Mirada Unified School District for the past 21 years, recently won the PLTW state award for her dedication in helping students enter the world of biomedical sciences and encouraging their continued studies in the field as a career and college path. She has focused on helping increase female and underrepresented students' enrollment in the courses.

PLTW is an Indianapolis-based non-profit organization that offers school curriculum programs and special teacher training that provide transformative learning experiences for K-12 students and educators across the U.S.

Gonzalez, a resident of La Mirada who has been teaching biomedical classes and helping the Biomedical Pathway grow at Norwalk HS for the past four years, was recognized along with four other PLTW state teacher of the year awardees in other subjects for their outstanding commitment to inspiring and empowering students to thrive in an evolving world.

"I feel honored that my hard work has been recognized and happy that I was singled out. And I'm excited for the kids that they appreciate having their teacher recognized," said Gonzalez about the state honor, which she and the other winners received at a formal PLTW ceremony held earlier this year in Riverside. Gonzalez was also honored during a recent meeting of the NLMUSD Board of Education.

Board of Education President Chris Phlanzer praised Gonzales for her daily efforts to encourage and assist youths. "We think that Elizabeth is absolutely an exemplary teacher and we are grateful for the hard work she does in her classes every day to help students take on and excel in the often challenging work of biomedical science studies."

Gonzalez is well liked by administrators and teaching colleagues alike who recognize her efforts to motivate students and create education opportunities for them in the often demanding subjects of science, technology, engineering and math, or STEM. She has been particularly aware of the need to increase female participation in the STEM fields as a college major and as a professional career option.

NLMUSD Supt. Dr. Hasmik Danielian said she appreciates the passion and skill of the district's teachers and is grateful to see them also serve as accomplished role models.

"Elizabeth is a wonderful teacher and her commitment to helping students learn about biomedical science, including the lab work, is so deserving of praise. I'm so glad to have her as one of our own," Danielian said.

Currently, NLMUSD has 15 schools participating in PLTW. More than 10,500 elementary, middle, and high schools in all 50 states and the District of Columbia offer various PLTW programs. For more information, visit pltw.org.

Shared Stories: Homage to my abuelita

Vicente Madrid honors his grandmother with this memoir of her love and the critical role she played in his family. Shared Stories is a weekly column featuring articles by participants in a writing class at the Norwalk Senior Center. Bonnie Mansell is the instructor for this free class offered through the Cerritos College Adult Education Program. Curated by Carol Kearns.

By Vicente Madrid

Speaking in the dialect of la Capital where they don't just say it, they sing it, the shaman explained the intention of el Día de los Muertos.

"The purpose of the ritual," he said, "is to remember those who have gone before us. We believe that one dies three times in this life. The first is when you're heart stops beating. The second is when you're buried and returned to Mother Earth. The third and the one nobody wants, is when you are forgotten. Hence the notion of honoring loved ones by creating works of art, literature, altars and sweets to eat in the form of skulls and skeletons as metaphors for loved ones who have transitioned to the next world."

It is in this spirit that I commemorate the birthday of my abuelita Carmen Ramirez de Aceves. On May 4, 2018, Abuelita turned 113 years old. Those who were present in our family will tell you that without her sacrifices, we would not be here today.

Even though she was on call from the canneries where tuna ships docked at the harbor, Grandma made time to slow-cook traditional Hispanic delicacies. No one has even come close to duplicating the taste of her fideo and nopales de camaron. The first bite of her home-made tortillas made from scratch, straight from the fire with a dash of butter, is locked in the memory of my taste buds.

In addition to cooking, Abuelita's forte was her demeanor. A woman of uncompromising principles, proud of doing everything for herself and owing nothing to any one, she was the rock in our family.

Discourse was by no means wasted on small talk or chitchat; everything she said was important. Her honesty was brutal and her word was gold. When Dad died, she took full responsibility taking care of her mom, my mother and five fatherless children under the age of nine. With no formal education she made sure we never went hungry, paid the bills and sent us to school with new shoes and clean clothes.

To my knowledge Grandma never drove a car. With broken English she managed to find work and commute with coworkers who lived nearby. Her main transportation was the red streetcar that stopped across the street from our house on Willowbrook Avenue. She also rode the bus and an occasional taxi.

After the Watts uprising when streetcars became obsolete and taxi cab service was suspended in Compton, she relied on her daughter and grandkids for travel.

I thank my lucky stars for the typesetting position at my job in downtown L.A.

Although short on sleep, the night shift created the opportunity to take Grandma shopping, on road trips and doctor's appointments.

In those days there was no "me too" movement; women fended off unwanted proposals by telling superiors where to go when they overstepped their boundaries. Encouraged by coworkers, Abuelita practiced the phrase "go to hell." However, it sounded like "go tu hill" when she said it.

"What hill?" I asked, "there's no hills here." Bless her heart, who knows how many times she was obliged to employ that expression at the canneries in San Pedro harbor.

Every morning when I pass by her picture, I shower Grandma with praise. My chant starts in English and converts to Spanish in case she's listening. Buenos dias Abuelita, te amo. Gracias por todo lo que isiste para nosotros. Descanse en pas. Te miro en el otro lado.

Good morning Grandma, I love you. Thank you for taking care of us. I'll see you on the other side.

Downey lobbies Metro for new light rail station

Downey’s mayor and mayor pro tem support a new Metro rail station on the south city limits.

► A proposed light rail system would link Downey and other area cities to Union Station.

One proposed route includes a rail station on the south Rancho Los Amigos campus.

By Alex Dominguez
Staff Writer

DOWNEY – Gateway City community members had their last chance to get informed on the West Santa Ana Branch Transit Corridor project on Tuesday, with Supervisor Janice Hahn and Metro holding an open-house and presentation at City Hall.

The 20-mile light rail project will begin in Artesia and connect the 13 gateway cities, including going through Bellflower, Paramount, Downey, and South Gate before terminating in Downtown LA at Union Station.

“It will totally revolutionize your commute if you’re going to Downtown LA,” said Hahn.

As of now, it looks promising that the City of Downey will have a rail line station built as a part of the project.

Mayor Pro Tem Rick Rodriguez said that the city has continued to lobby for a station to be built, however the project will first need to get environmental approval before station locations are confirmed. That vote should come early next week.

A representative for Hahn also confirmed via Metro that a Downey stop is being considered in the current plans but added that these plans were still “very preliminary” and that details should be finalized after a further study and technical work by Metro.

According to current plans, the station would be located on Gardendale Street, within the Rancho Los Amigos south campus.

The project is on a timeline to be completed in 2028, according to Hahn.

At Tuesday’s meeting, attendees were presented with eight potential routes – four initially proposed and four alternatives created after community feedback from last summer’s scoping meetings – labeled “A” through “H.”

Alignment A would start as an aerial configuration before transitioning into at-grade, jogging west towards Little Tokyo before transitioning into an aerial configuration before terminating at Union Station.

Alignment B would similarly start as an aerial configuration before transitioning into an at-grade, following on Vignes Street transitioning into an aerial configuration to terminate at Union Station.

Alignments C and D would be parallel to the existing Metro Blue Line as an aerial configuration transitioning at grade to be under the 10 freeway before transitioning back aerially through Alameda Street before terminating at Union Station.

Alignment E would start aerially before transitioning to an underground configuration all the way to Union Station.

Alignment F would again be parallel to the Metro Blue Line starting aerially before transitioning into an underground configuration, before transitioning back to an aerial configuration to terminate at two possible locations at Union Station.

Alignment G would start as an aerial configuration before transitioning to at-grade, heading west into Downtown with stations at Arts District and South Park, before terminating at two possible locations – one closer to 8th and Flower Streets, with service to the existing 7th and Metro Station with a pedestrian connection, and the other closer to 5th and Broadway Streets, to service the existing Pershing Square station also via a pedestrian connection.

Alignment H will start as an aerial underground configuration to reach Arts District / 6th Street Station.

The Metro Board of Directors will vote on the final alignment next week, May 24. Metro staff will be recommending that the board select either options E, F, or G.

Hahn said that she backs alternative E.

“From the very beginning, it had sort of a different alignment up north by Union Station. Because of all the comments we’ve heard, particularly from this region, they really wanted a convenient ‘one-seat-ride’ that they can get on and end at Union Station and not have to transfer,” aid Hahn. “If we’re going to build transportation projects that get people out of their cars, it has to be convenient, easy, and it has to save them time and effort.”

When asked about Downey’s preferred route, Mayor Sean Ashton said that the city as a whole had not made a decision yet, however he - like Hahn - preferred route E.

“With option E, you have connectivity to Union Station which is really important because the northern part of this alignment is the second part that will go from Union Station out to Hollywood-Burbank Airport, and then from there possibly into Santa Clarita, possibly into Lancaster-Palmdale,” said Ashton. “That’s a northern option, that if you don’t go to Union Station, makes it extremely more expensive to connect that part of it.

“Also, with the Downtown area, there were concerns about going aerial, because of the disruptions that they’ve already had with all the at-grade lines, so they wanted to have something underground. With option E, you’re going underneath Alameda which isn’t going to disrupt too many of the buildings and the businesses, gives them access to the line, and as they’ve shown it’s going to be the highest projected ridership out of all the eight options.”

Additional information about the project can be found online at metro.net/wsab, or by emailing wsab@metro.net. Community members are also encouraged to follow on social media for updates, at @metrowsab on Twitter or at metrowsab on Facebook. Those with questions can also call 213-922-6262.

Norwalk museum hosting rose garden celebration

NORWALK – Norwalk’s Hargitt House Museum will host its annual Rose Garden Celebration on Saturday, May 19, from 1-4 p.m.

The free event showcases this specially tended area of the property surrounding the Eastlake Victorian style home, and will include activities for children as well as light refreshments.

A nationally-registered landmark, the Hargitt House Museum provides a look into Norwalk’s early history. Built in 1891 by the D.D. Johnston family, the house was part of a 120-acre ranch where wine grapes, avocados and citrus fruits were cultivated and contains family heirlooms and Victorian-era artifacts.

The Hargitt House Museum is located at 12426 Mapledale Street and is open to the public the first and third Saturday of every month from 1-4 p.m.

For more information, call (562) 929-5521.

Indian and Pakistani cooking demonstration Saturday

NORWALK – Chef Farhana Sahibzada will demonstrate her skills and share her knowledge of Indian and Pakistani cooking at Alondra Library this Saturday, May 19, from 2:30-3:30 p.m.

Chef Farhana’s varied culinary experiences, from publishing an award-winning book to appearing on “Live With Kelly and Michael,” make her a noted authority on this type of cuisine.

Samples will be provided by supplies last. Registration is not required.

Alondra Library is located at 11949 Alondra Blvd. in Norwalk.

Memorial Day barbecue at senior center

NORWALK – The Norwalk Senior Center will celebrate Memorial Day with a barbecue Saturday, May 26, from 12:30-3:30 p.m.

The menu includes barbecue chicken, coleslaw, barbecue baked beans, roll, and ice cream.

There will be live music by Midnight Ride, playing rock and Top 40.

The barbecue is open to adults ages 50 and older. Eligible seniors can purchase one ticket for a spouse or adult companion under the age of 50.

Tickets are $5 and can be purchased at the senior center. Last day to buy tickets is May 24.

Tickets on sale for Norwalk Chamber installation

NORWALK – The Norwalk Chamber of Commerce will hold its 95th annual installation of officers and Salute to Business awards luncheon Wednesday, June 13, from 12-1:30 p.m. at the Norwalk Arts & Sports Complex.

Cost is $30 per person, or $220 for a table of eight.

Sponsorship opportunities are available ranging from $400-$600.

Reservations are a must; no tickets will be sold at the door. To purchase tickets, call the chamber at (562) 404-0909 or email info@norwalkchamber.com.

‘Pray Norwalk’ set for June 2

NORWALK – Lovers of Christ are invited to a “Pray Norwalk” event Saturday, June 2, from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the DoubleTree Hotel.

For details, email lovenorwalk@yahoo.com.

Norwalk to honor heroes on Memorial Day

NORWALK – The city of Norwalk, in collaboration with American Legion Post 359, will hold its annual Memorial Day celebration Monday, May 28, at 11 a.m. at the Freedom Memorial art installation at City Hall.

The event will bring elected officials, veterans, and residents together to pay tribute to our country’s heroes.

There will be a presentation by the American Legion Color Guard and musical performances by the Norwalk All-City Youth Band.

The keynote address will be given by Stephanie Stone, U.S. Navy (ret.), chief deputy director of the County of Los Angeles Department of Military and Veterans Affairs.

Stone was the first woman to serve as chair to the Los Angeles Mayor’s Military and Veteran Affairs Committee.

Complimentary refreshments will be served, and free parking is available.

PROBATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: PAUL HAWKINS SCHWENNEKER CASE NO. 18STPB03889
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of PAUL HAWKINS SCHWENNEKER.
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by VIRGINIA A. SCHWENNEKER in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.
THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that VIRGINIA A. SCHWENNEKER be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act with limited authority. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 05/30/18 at 8:30AM in Dept. 5 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012
IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court.

LEGAL

sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The requirements of California Civil Code Section 2923.5(b)/2923.55(c) were fulfilled when the Notice of Default was recorded. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 714-730-2727 or visit this Internet Web site www.ndscorp.com/sales, using the file number assigned to this case 17-30703-BA-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligations secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of this Notice of Trustee's Sale is estimated to be $242,424.86 (Estimated). However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the Trustee may withhold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held in escrow by the property, if any, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call Auction.com at 800.280.2832 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale or visit the Internet Web site address www.Auction.com for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA07000747-17-1. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Oz Sanchez to deliver commencement address at Cerritos College

NORWALK – Cerritos College announced Thursday its 2018 commencement speaker, Oz Sanchez, a Paralympic hand cyclist and triathlete.

“Oz has the heart of a champion, and his inspirational journey of courage, strength and triumph is expected to leave students with a message of hope,” the college said in a statement.

Oz is a former Marine who was in the process of transferring to the Navy to become a Navy SEAL when he was involved in a hit-and-run motorcycle accident that resulted in a spinal cord injury and paralysis.

His tenacity and strong will to overcome adversity is remarkable. Oz started competing in cycling and triathlons after his accident and is now a three-time Paralympian (2008, 2012, 2016), and six-time Paralympic medalist (2 gold, 1 silver, 3 bronze).

He was featured in the documentary film “Unbeaten” (2010).

“I realized I can do anything I set my mind to, just as long as I have the passion, the purpose, and the commitment to follow through,” said Oz Sanchez.

The College will present associate degrees and skills certificates earned during the 2017-2018 academic year. Nearly 3,500 students will be receiving degrees and certificates, making the largest graduating class in the Cerritos College history.

Students graduating and transferring will be transitioning to some of the nation's top colleges and universities, including UCLA, UC Berkeley, UC Santa Barbara, California State Universities Northridge, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Fullerton, among others.

The ceremony is free, however, each guest will need a ticket to enter the stadium. Please refer to the “TICKET DISTRIBUTION” section on the Commencement webpage for details. No strollers will be admitted into the stadium for the ceremony.

Seating for wheelchair users is available on a first-come, first-serve basis. For more information, contact Disabled Student Program and Services (DSP&S) at (562) 860-2451 ext. 2335.

Cerritos College taking applications for study abroad program

NORWALK – Cerritos College is currently accepting applications for its study abroad program to Taipei City.

The College and The University of Taipei entered into a new agreement that gives current Cerritos College students an opportunity to study in Taipei City as a University of Taipei student. Participants will also work as a Teacher's Assistant, teaching three days a week in public secondary or elementary schools. Students who participate in the semester-long program can take classes offered through the University at no cost.

Applicants must be current Cerritos College students, or a recent graduate, an English native speaker, and in good standing with the college. Participants may also be a qualified California teacher.

Program benefits include free homestay with a sponsor, including free meals, free Chinese language lessons with Taiwanese students, free cultural experience tours and activities, free health insurance provided, and registry as a University of Taipei student and any course offered at the University at no cost.
