Covid rates fall further

■ Infections numbers are low enough that mask mandates could be lifed in Los Angeles County.

By City News Service

NORWALK – The number of COVID-19-positive patients in Los Angeles County hospitals fell below 2,600 Wednesday, moving closer to the level that will start the clock for lifting the county's outdoor mask-wearing mandate for large events, schools and childcare centers.

According to state figures, there were 2,597 COVID-positive patients in local hospitals as of Wednesday, down from 2,702 on Tuesday. Of those patients, 528 were being treated in intensive care, a drop from 547 a day earlier.

Hospital figures have been steadily dropping, and if the trend continues, the number could fall below 2,500 in the next day or two. County Public Health Director Barbara Ferrer has said if the number stays below 2,500 for two consecutive weeks, the county will lift its mask mandate for outdoor "mega-events" and outdoors at schools and childcare

The indoor masking mandate, however, will remain in place until much stricter criteria are met, despite the state of California lifting its indoor mask requirement for vaccinated people next week. According to Ferrer, the county's mask rule will not be lifted until the county's virus-transmission rate falls to the "moderate" level as defined by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for two straight weeks, or until COVID vaccines have been available to children under 5 years old for eight weeks.

guidelines mean Those indoor masking will remain a requirement until at least March, but more likely at least April.

Reaching the CDC's "moderate" designation requires the county to have a cumulative, seven-day new case rate of less than 50 per 100,000 residents. According to the CDC's website, the county's rate was 768 per 100,000 as of Wednesday. That's down from 1,098 per 100,000 residents on Monday.

Vaccines for children under age 5 could potentially be approved by the end of the month, Ferrer said.

The county is so far sticking to that criteria, despite criticism by county Supervisor Kathryn Barger this week that the criteria was too stringent, and "not even realistic." She said the county should align with the state to lessen confusion among residents.

The county on Wednesday reported another 103 COVIDrelated deaths, raising the overall death toll to 29,609.

Another 5,100 new cases were also confirmed, giving the county a pandemic total of 2,740,700.

The average daily rate of people testing positive for the virus was 5% as of Wednesday, a rate that has been holding steady each day this week.

county Department of Public Health also reported continued drops in infection rates among students and staff at schools. For the week ending Feb. 4, the testing-positive rate fell to 2.6% for schools, down from 4.4% a week earlier.

"The decline in positive tests and test positivity suggests that schools continue to successfully implement recommended strategies that limit spread, such as screening and response testing, ensuring compliance with isolation and quarantine requirements, following recommended infection control guidelines, and as required by the state, wearing well-fitting masks," Ferrer said in a statement Wednesday.

Norwalk moves ahead with civic center plans

■ The project would transform Norwalk's civic center into a mixed-use development with housing and entertainment.

NORWALK – The Norwalk city council received an update last week on Primestor Development's plan for the Entertainment District Project next to city hall.

Through public outreach and direction from the city, the development company found that an urban center with an area for families would be welcomed by the community. They also wanted to ensure that there is still open space for events at the civic center.

Mayor Rick Ramirez said he expects Primestor's updated plans to drive more activity into the area with additional business, restaurants and local hiring opportunities.

"The City Council has the opportunity to bring a development that will raise the city's economic vibrancy, something that the residents need and deserve," said Ramirez.

City staff and Primestor are working on the submittal of the project with items such as applications and studies that analyze the effects of the project.

Legislation seeks to curb freeway expansion

■ Assemblymember Cristina Garcia is advancing a bill that would protect low-income neighborhoods from freeway expansions.

NORWALK - Assembly member Cristina Garcia this week introduced Assembly Bill (AB) 1778, which would prohibit the state from funding or permitting freeway expansions or widening communities adversely affected by vehicle emissions and/or in areas with a higher rate of population below the poverty

Specifically, the would block the state from funding or issuing permits to freeway projects that would increase traffic in low-income communities and displace vulnerable communities from their homes.

AB 1778 would make it so that neither state money, personnel hours, nor permits are allocated to such construction projects.

More than 200,000 people have lost their homes nationwide to federal road projects over the last three decades, according to a Los Angeles Times analysis of federal transportation data. The actual total is higher because many states fail to report how many homes are taken annually.

In large projects in California and four other states, the families that lost their homes were disproportionately residents in Black and Latino neighborhoods.

who are displaced today are compensated for the value of their home if they are homeowners and renters are compensated traffic, because it leads to urban for moving expenses and the difference in rent for 42 months.

However, expecting any amount of money to make up for the displacement of families especially during California's housing crisis is unacceptable, said Garcia.

Specifically the displacement of vulnerable communities in the middle of a housing crisis when housing near freeways is often the most affordable to own or rent is backwards to our

by adding to their housing low income Latinos, Garcia said. insecurity, Garcia said.

"If we are truly going to congestion is to fund public govern with equity lenses we transportation projects like the nust stop the seizure of family homes in poor brown and Black communities and acknowledge that the freeway system since the 1950's has been used as a tool to further disenfranchise low income communities and communities of color like mine,' Garcia said.

Evidence also indicates that Unlike decades ago, those expanding freeways isn't easing congestion problems. Experts have found that widening freeways can actually increase sprawl and encourages more vehicle trips. This simply leads to more pollution and further exacerbates the community's health problems.

> AB 1778 will end the allocation of state funds to the widening of Interstate 710 from the port of Long Beach to the railyards in Commerce. Brown and Black communities along the 710 corridor are already plagued with bad air quality, congested city streets, and expanding the freeway will increase vehicle state housing goals and targets emission effectively choking us example of the systemic racism already vulnerable communities to death and will displace many

> "A better way to help ease West Santa Ana Branch Transit Corridor (WSAB) project which is a 19-mile corridor which will service Environmental Justice communities along Interstate-710 trucking corridor," Garcia said in a statement. "WSAB is the solution that fixes air quality, health, and reduces freeway congestion by getting commuters out of their cars, thus speeding up goods movement from the Port of Long Beach to the railyard in Commerce.'

"It is imperative that the resources, money and time, consumed by the discussion freeway widening are completing to reallocated public transportation projects, Garcia added. "This creates jobs and helps make communities healthier while keeping people in their homes. It is outrageous and feels criminal to use state resources to choke and displace communities like mine when the data and research clearly show that this practice is just another in our policies and practices. Emission increases from freeway expansion raises the risk of health hazards for underserved communities along the corridor. I can no longer allow state dollars to fund expansion projects that kill us faster."

Michael Schneider, founder of Los Angeles-based Streets For All, agreed.

"Expanding highways for six decades has only made traffic worse thanks to induced demand, all while polluting our air and locking us into more car reliance,' said. $\hbox{``Assembly member}$ Garcia's bill will force Metro and Caltrans to invest in projects that will actually fight climate change and reduce traffic, including bus rapid transit, rail, and active transportation.'

"The introduction of AB 1778 is the starting point of a conversation that has been ignored for decades," Garcia added. "I encourage all affected stakeholders and advocates to work with me to solve this problem and actually put action behind our commitment to equity once and for all, we can't wait any longer, my neighbors' and my life are worth the fight."

Paging Dr. Frischer...

By Dr. Alan Frischer

I think that you'll find this surprising. One of the most frequent requests I hear from my patients is this: "Doctor, will you give me a Z-Pak?"

Just what is a

Z-Pak, and why the constant requests? Let's start with what is perhaps the most brilliant marketing campaign conducted by any pharmaceutical company, ever. Z-Pak is simply Pfizer's clever name for a full course of an antibiotic. The name is easy to remember, the marketing to laypeople is effective, it is easy to take with a convenient 5-day course, and it works well for a number of conditions.

Azithromycin is an excellent antibiotic for conditions including bacterial infections of the lungs, sinuses, throat, tonsils, skin, urinary tract, cervix or genitals (including chlamydia and gonorrhea). It does come with side effects, including the potential for serious side effects, though these are rare.

It is important to keep in mind that the Z-Pak has no effect on any viral colds or flu, or on a runny nose or cough caused by allergies. However, it is not always obvious whether an infection is viral or bacterial. There are certain clues, but without lab tests, we often never know for sure. The doctor makes an informed, educated guess.

So, what happens when we become ill? Usually, with time, we get better. When a Z-Pak is taken, we assume that it was the antibiotic that led to our recovery. What we don't know is whether we would have recovered just as quickly without it, because it is statistically extremely likely that a virus caused the illness in the first place. Studies have been conducted to address this very question, and the data suggests that viruses cause about 81% of respiratory infections.

Due to its overuse, resistance to azithromycin will eventually reach a point where we can no longer count on it to be an effective tool. That resistance level is already around 30-35% in the United States. The problem with any antibiotic is that when it is overused, bacteria eventually figure it out. And, when the full five-day course is not completed, the most resistant bacteria survive. They multiply, leading to a more resistant infection.

So, why do we doctors so frequently comply and prescribe it, even though we are well aware that the odds are that the infection is viral, and that the overuse of the antibiotic will ultimately lead to its end as a viable treatment? If the patient goes home empty-handed and gets sicker, he or she will feel they wasted their time and must return to the doctor. We doctors understand that our patients have taken valuable time away from their jobs, children, or other responsibilities in order to come see us. There is an implied understanding that we will do our best to resolve the issue at hand during that visit. The result? Roughly 60 million prescriptions for Z-Pak are written each year.

Here is the bottom line: If you aren't running a high fever, or have an underlying medical condition, you will likely feel better in a few days. Take this time to catch up on sleep, eat chicken soup, drink plenty of fluids, and binge watch your favorite shows. If symptoms persist, or get worse, then by all means reach out to your doctor.

It is clear to me that the Z-Pak dilemma will only be solved when both patients and doctors work together to reduce its unnecessary use. Sometimes, the best plan is to be patient, and to stick with over-the-counter medicines for symptom relief.

Biden's success is a boon to Democrats

By Froma Harrop

Fabulous jobs numbers, a fading pandemic and a president doing his job with quiet competence should embolden Democrats to drop their funk and campaign furiously for the midterms. Ignore President Joe Biden's weak poll numbers. The good news should eventually wash over

Democrats should also take out their finest vellum and pen a thankyou note to the Republican National Committee for dismissing the violent coup attempt on Jan. 6 as "ordinary citizens engaged in legitimate political discourse." Defending the lowlifes who ransacked the Capitol, threatened the life of their vice president and killed police was an act of political insanity.

In a similar vein, Democrats might send former Donald Trump aide Steve Bannon a box of chocolate chip cookies for sending more arms to the Republican circular firing squad. Bannon had called former Vice President Mike Pence a "stone-cold coward" for saying that Trump was "wrong," and "I had no right to overturn the election." To normal Americans, that was Pence's second finest hour, his first being his refusal on Jan. 6 to stop the Electoral College count.

To keep their majorities in Congress, Democrats will have to disband their own circular firing squad. We speak of the woke left, a small but noisy group intent on heretic hunting in their own party.

Not enough attention was paid to Biden's comments on the U.S. are hearing this. economy having 467,000 new jobs in January. This high number — at a time when omicron was drowning spirits — shocked economists. The disappointing new job totals for November and December, meanwhile, were revised upward by a not-at-all-disappointing 700,000.

Biden delivered a Reaganesque "Morning in America" speech using the right language. He spoke of the "extraordinary resilience and grit of the American people and American capitalism." He talked up his program to "Buy American" and then took listeners onto a tour of the industrial heartland.

Just outside Columbus, Ohio, Biden noted, Intel is building a $20 billion semiconductor factory. It will employ 3,000 workers earning an average of $135,000. In Michigan, General Motors is investing $7 billion in plants to make electric batteries and to make the trucks using them. That will add 4,000 good jobs.

"The Union Pacific Railroad," Biden added, "announced the largest purchase of American battery-electric locomotives in history." It will be built in Erie, Pennsylvania. That's how Trump would have talked, had this happened under him.

While taking a muscular approach to American manufacturing, Biden dispensed with attacks on the rich. He noted that they would be paying for some of these programs, thank you. One hopes the American people

On the world stage, Biden is standing up to Chinese leader Xi Jinping, and unlike his predecessor, he's not slobbering at the feet of Russian President Vladimir Putin. Trumpian dead enders are currently rooting for Russia against the interests of the U.S. and our NATO allies. Not pretty.

Back in this country, the COVID-19 pandemic is about to be replaced by the COVID-19 endemic. With the vaccinated majority largely protected, all those fights over masks, government mandates and horse pills will leave the headlines.

You may not like some of Biden's policy decisions. I don't approve of them all. But trying to protect and build the domestic economy is usually Job No. 1 for a president.

It wasn't Biden who said that "the U.S. economy grew rapidly in the fourth quarter ... capping the strongest year of growth in nearly four decades." It was The Wall Street Journal.

In the first year of his presidency, Biden boasted, "our economy created 6.6 million jobs — 6.6 million jobs." That kind of rhetoric should make Democrats smile, if they still know how.

No free trade with an unfree China

By Terence P. Jeffrey

California, Florida and Michigan may be geographically distant from one another and have somewhat different cultures, but when they engage in trade with one another, it is free.

The business owners and workers in these states all work under the same federal laws. The Constitution gives the federal Congress, not state governments, the power to "regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, and among the several States.'

If a worker or entrepreneur does not like the laws of the state they now inhabit, they are free to move to another part of the United States or they can vote their state politicians out of office.

The United States is both a free country and a free-trade zone.

The Constitution, as originally ratified, gave the federal government the power to impose tariffs on foreign goods coming into the United States but effectively barred the imposition of a direct federal tax on the incomes of individual Americans.

When the first Congress met in 1789, one of the first laws it passed on July 4 — was expressly designed for "the encouragement and protection of manufactures." It was the Tariff Act.

"Whereas, it is necessary," said this law, "for the support of government, for the discharge of debts of the United States, and the encouragement and protection of manufactures that duties be laid on goods, wares and merchandise imported: Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the first day of August next ensuing, the several duties hereinafter mentioned shall be laid on the following goods, wares and merchandise imported into the United States from any foreign port or place."

The act then went on to list specific items and what the tariff on them would be. "On soap, per pound, two cents," it said. "On boots, per pair, fifty cents.'

Members of Congress today should look back to the vision of the Manufacturing employment in the United States hit its all-time peak in June 1979, when, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, it climbed Local, state and federal government in the United States that same month employed only a combined 16,045,000.

So, the manufacturing sector in the United States employed 3,508,000 more than government as we started the summer season 43 years ago.

In January, according to BLS, there were 22,144,000 people employed in government in the United States and only 12,559,000 in manufacturing. Government employees now outnumber manufacturing employees by 9,585,000, or 76.3%.

What would the Founders have thought of that?

One of the reasons for the decline in manufacturing jobs in the United States can be seen in the 2021 international merchandise trade data released this week by the Census Bureau.

The People's Republic of China was by far the leading contributor to our merchandise trade deficit for the year. The United States imported $506.3 billion in goods from China in 2021, but China bought only $151 billion in goods from the United States. That resulted in a bilateral trade

Our next highest trade deficit was with Mexico, but it was less than one-third the deficit with China. The United States imported $384.7 billion in goods from Mexico and exported $276.4 billion in goods to Mexico, resulting in a trade deficit of $108.2 billion.

What did America buy from China?

According to the date released by the Census Bureau, the top product the United States imported from China was $75.18 billion worth of "cell phones and other household goods." Ranking second was "computers" at $59.2 billion. The top two products the United States sold to China were Founders when they approach U.S. policy toward the People's Republic soybeans ($14.1 billion) and semiconductors ($13.4 billion).

The workers in China who make the products that China exports to the United States are not free people. Their government denies them their God-given rights.

In its latest report on human rights in China, the State Department said that China is "an authoritarian state," where the "Chinese Communist Party is the paramount authority." "Significant human rights issues," it said, "included: ... forced labor and trafficking in persons; severe restrictions on labor rights, including a ban on workers organizing or joining unions of their own choosing; and child labor.'

Perhaps Congress should move to protect the jobs — and cut the taxes — of American workers by imposing on Chinese imports the sort of tariffs that the Founders had in mind when they convened the first

Reading a newspaper is your civic duty

By Jamie Stiehm

I just read Carl Bernstein's new memoir, "Chasing History," on being a "kid" in the newsroom, when young President John F. Kennedy was alive. It almost broke my heart.

Bernstein brought me back to my first sight of the bustling Baltimore Sun. It was exhilarating, full of eccentrics and experts on everything from Russia — the former Moscow correspondent next to me — to every neighborhood's characters and causes.

City desk reporting meant more than interviewing homicide detectives Saturday morning at the morgue, but I did that, too.

Baltimore is a storied city, from Edgar Allan Poe to the Cone sisters' museum collection of Matisses to F. Scott Fitzgerald, who lived on a Bolton Hill street near Johns Hopkins doctors.

Fitzgerald's ancestor, Francis Scott Key, wrote the national anthem poem there. Fells Point greeted multitudes of Old-World immigrants and gave English lessons and social mixers. Frederick Douglass worked on that waterfront as an enslaved young man.

In Camden Yards, snow fell once on Opening Day. Babe Ruth's birthplace is just a pitcher's toss away.

Real journalism was committed there. The newspaper printed pages of the city life every day. We "planted" people in the well-read obituaries, with middle initials. Baltimore seemed a small town where people stayed Bernstein was 16 when he went to the Washington Evening Star, hoping to be hired as a copy boy. He fell in love, capturing the romance of journalism: "I had never heard such glorious chaos or seen such purposeful commotion.

The soundscape was the clatter of typewriters and people shouting across the room, under deadline.

Life was one long deadline, as a Sun editor observed. I saw the end of an era and the birth of a subdued one, where people silently stared at their screens all day, missing the old banter and doing work online. Reporters weren't as free as they used to be.

Few newspapers keep that old-fashioned feeling of an orchestra warming up before playing a piece, becoming more than the sum of its parts.

The newspaper is a civic duty and common space. Since I left mine, a staggering number went dark. A thousand or two. Some say that's a loss for democracy. It's also a loss of community.

We know what else is ebbing: downtown department stores, which supported newspapers with advertising. (Thanks, Amazon.) Just riding the escalator at grand Marshall Field's, decked in Christmas magic, was fun for a boy, my father said.

Downey city manager accepts $452K to leave

■ Gilbert Livas's departure is effective July 1 and comes after the City Council nearly fired him in December.

He will receive $452,000 to leave.

By Alex Dominguez Staff Writer

DOWNEY – After nearly 15 years with the city of Downey and over 10 as it's top unelected official, City Manager Gilbert Livas will step down and retire in July this year.

The announcement was made by City Attorney Yvette Abich Garcia at Tuesday's council vote to accept his resignation, with Councilwoman Claudia M. Frometa the sole vote in opposition.

Livas's job has been in the crosshairs since December, when anonymous sources inside city hall disclosed to the Downey Patriot that there was an apparent move to oust the city manager, supported by council members Mario Trujillo, Catherine Alvarez, and Mayor Pro Tem Sean Ashton.

The situation only intensified when a special meeting was called to discuss Livas's future. This sparked a flurry of support from the community and city chambers to plead for the council to retain its city manager.

Council ultimately declined to take any action at that discussion, Frometa would a $30 million residential street explain her sole opposition improvement project, and nine on Wednesday, saying that she "did not want to accept his resignation."

"I believe Gilbert is equipped to continue leading our city forward," said Frometa. "While he tendered his resignation, I did not want to accept it."

"I believe that he has led our meeting after a 4-1 closed session city through great challenges, and he has been an outstanding leader. I certainly wish things would have been different, and wish him, certainly, only the best. He will be sorely missed in the city of Downey.'

> According to the terms of the separation agreement, Livas will receive $452,000 over two equal payments, paid within 14 days of his resignation and within the first two weeks of January 2023.

Livas will continue in his role until July 1.

During his tenure, Livas has been credited with an economic staff, who flocked to the council dining experiences with the development of the Downey the successful Promenade, completion of over $67 million in Measure S neighborhood infrastructure projects, the expansion of the city's medical While council members hub by bringing PIH Hospital are legally not able to discuss and expanding Kaiser Medical the content of closed session Center, the recent launching of vote in a call with the Patriot consecutive years of balanced city

"Since arriving to Downey, Mr. Livas has taken on increasing responsibility and leadership within our city government. For over 10 years, he has served as the top unelected official in Downey; and that stability has yielded strong results for our community," said Pacheco. "On behalf of our City Council, I thank him for his many contributions to our community and City staff, and wish him well in his future plans."

In the same release, Livas thanked city leaders, staff, and community members.

"It has been an honor and rebirth in the city's Downtown privilege to serve the residents of area, expanded shopping and Downey," said Livas. "Together,

When Lilacs Last in the Doorvard Bloom'd

excerpts

When lilacs last in the dooryard bloom'd, And the great star early droop'd in the western sky in the night, I mourn'd, and yet shall mourn with ever-returning spring.

O powerful western fallen star! O shades of night—O moody, tearful night! O great star disappear'd...

Over the breast of the spring, the land, amid cities, Amid lanes and through old woods, where lately the violets peep'd from the ground, spotting the gray debris,

Passing the apple-tree blows of white and pink in the orchards, Carrying a corpse to where it shall rest in the grave, Night and day journeys a coffin.

Here, coffin that slowly passes, I give you my sprig of lilac...

For the sweetest, wisest soul of all my days and lands—and this for his dear sake,

Lilac and star and bird twined with the chant of my soul,

John Glenn boys basketball: small in numbers, big in results

■ First-year head coach Sam Abebe is leading John Glenn to its first postseason game in nine years.

By John M. Sherrard Contributor

NORWALK - With the CIF-Southern Section boys and girls basketball playoffs getting underway this week, there is one team that has waited a long time to join the party - John Glenn High School.

It's been a while since the boys team has experienced post season action.

In fact, the 2013-14 season was the last time they were invited to join the dance with an at-large berth.

This will be the first time they have officially qualified without an at-large bid since the 1999-00 season, as they finished third in the 605 League last week - no atlarge berth needed.

This small group of players are even ranked No. 8 in Division

Glenn won its first 605 League game in three years this season. And, they did it with only six players, sometimes even five.

And the man in charge of these successful young men is varsity head coach, it was a special moment to take this school, who had struggled for so long, to a place where they haven't been so often," Abebe said. "It gave me a special feeling that I knew I could coach at this level and be

Abebe, who came from Santa Fe High where he was an assistant varsity coach under Leonard Romero and also head freshman and JV coach in his two seasons, took over a team that has now won almost as many games as it won since 2018. This years' team

"Twelve and twelve isn't the best, but for John Glenn it's astronomical," Abebe added. "The boys are happy with the record, but we could have won more. Obviously, we could have done better.'

With that 12-12 record, Glenn qualified outright for CIF and will take to the road with a firstround game at River Springs Charter School in Hemet. River Springs finished 7-2 for second place in the Warrior League.

Glenn officially finished in third after defeating Pioneer (50-44) last week, with two games

"Once we beat Pioneer, we knew we were in the playoffs,"

"For me, as a first-year and absolutely on top of the world. The boys were so excited.

> "We had a game the next night, and as a coach I was worried about how they would come out. They arguably had one of their best performances all season. Pioneer is a well-coached team and to come out at their place and get a win to secure a playoff spot was great.'

> Glenn junior guard Michael Saucedo described how he felt after they defeated Pioneer to qualify for the playoffs.

"I felt like I won a finished the regular season with a 12-12 overall record and 4-3 in league. championship," said Saucedo, with a big smile. "It felt like the first game I ever won."

> Saucedo has been on the team for three years and knew the feeling of losing.

> "It just feels amazing because all my three years here we didn't win at all and to come this far to not being ranked and now being top eight is unbelievable.

> "It's crazy and I hope it keeps going this way and my props to the coaches and how tough they made us as individuals. And the fact that we're winning off of five or six guys is something.

> Saucedo, who along with his teammates will all be playing their first John Glenn playoff game on Friday, was asked how he will prepare for this monumental

"To just get locked in and cut off everyone and listen to music," said Saucedo, who will no doubt be tuned in to his music along with his teammates on the long hour and a half bus ride to Hemet.

John Glenn Athletic Director Linda Parra was also very proud of the teams' accomplishments.

Glenn School is very proud of the accomplishments of our boys basketball program," said Parra, who also experienced the softball team last year making program history in the playoffs. "The players in the program have shown a tremendous amount of dedication, perseverance and character. They managed to battle through a season with only five or six players. That is almost unheard of at the varsity level.

"They have shown that John

Glenn is a competitive basketball reasons - injuries, covid, and coach to watch, but I loved the program led by coach Abebe and his staff. We are very excited to see them qualify for a CIF playoff game and wish them the best of luck in their first-round game.'

Abebe was very complimentary of Parra and her dedication to John Glenn.

"Linda Parra, where do I start," Abebe said. "She is by far one of the nicest, most genuine and most understanding people I've come across in this line of work. I think I can make a bold prediction and say she is the best AD. She believed in me to give me a chance to pursue my dream of being a Head Varsity Coach. I think I've made that gamble pay

"She made my first year as a Head Varsity Coach as easy as possible. She did everything for us besides coach, and sometimes she even helped with that."

As Parra had mentioned, to get through a season with just five or six players was unheard of at the varsity level. Abebe had his thoughts about that very subject

"This season was one I've never been a part of before and hope I never have to again," Abebe said. "During our toughest stretch of the season we had only five guys to play with. We had players out due to numerous family troubles.

"We played seven games with five players and we went 4-3 during that stretch. I was absolutely proud of these young men for enduring those difficult hardships and finding a way to come out of that stretch with an over .500 average. This showed myself and my coaching staff that this team could accomplish anything they set their minds Abebe, who is assisted Edward Marquez, Steve Minyangadou and Periman, remembers one game in particular: "The game that will always stick out to me is the game versus Bellflower," he said. "This game has special meaning to me as well, because it was my first win as a Head Varsity Coach.

"The next game that stood out to me was our first league win at Oxford Academy," Abebe said. The atmosphere at Oxford was like a playoff game, given it was their homecoming game.

"We trailed the first three quarters and in the fourth quarter the mental toughness showed. We were not playing well by any means. Sebastian Figueroa, Seyharmony Somchan and Saucedo really carried us down the stretch. We ended up winning 44-31. It was a tough game as a Glenn is led by senior Richard Ramos, Saucedo and Figueroa.

"Ramos (11.8 PPG, 4.7 RB/G) has been arguably the best player at Glenn the past few years," Abebe added. Abebe moved Ramos from a guard last year to a forward this season "I love this a forward this season. "I love this kid to death, but I know he wasn't too fond of this move but he did a great ioh for us all year." great job for us all year.

Saucedo (11.3 PPG, 3.7 APG), who was the second player that Abebe moved positions from the two-guard to the point guard, took off at his new position and changed the whole landscape of the team.

Figueroa (14.8, PPG, 5.8 RB/G), who missed a good portion of the season last year due to his transfer, is the most accomplished given his time at Santa Fe. He was the Eagles' number one scorer and rebounder last season.

"Our sophomore guard, Seyharmony Somchan, was another huge piece for us," Abebe said. "He is our youngest player and he had a great season with some ups and downs, which comes with being so young.

Figueroa, like Saucedo, was finally excited to be going to the playoffs.

"It feels great, because it's my first time to be going to the playoffs," he said. ("They) haven't been to the playoffs in a long time.

"I think my teammates are amazing, because we only have six guys. They give it their all and without them we wouldn't have been here.

"My coach (Abebe) is amazing," Figueroa said. "He's the reason I'm here."

The other supporting players on the team are: Senior Natanael Jacobo, junior Frank Sanchez, senior Joan Salgado and junior Xavier Fleming.

"It took a lot of development from my coaches and myself, and to be honest, I wouldn't change it," Abebe said. "We're finally here and it's one and done.

"It's been a long road, but I can't wait for Friday. We're
