Kayla Viramontes, Andrew Hernandez named Santa Fe Athletes of the Year

 Both ended their stellar high school careers with notable accomplishments on the field and in the classroom.

By John M. Sherrard Contributor

SANTA FE SPRINGS - Two student-athletes stood above the rest, as the school year ended at Santa Fe High School recently at the annual farewell assembly in the gym in May.

Seniors Kayla Viramontes and Andrew Hernandez were named 2021-22 Athletes of the Year by the Chiefs coaches after successful four-year high school careers.

Viramontes, who broke many distance records at the school, ran both cross country and track and field, while Hernandez was an outstanding basketball player and played volleyball and participated in the field events in his senior year and played one year of football.

High praise came from coaches for these two athletes.

"From the start of her freshmen year, to her final race as a senior, Kayla always showed that she was a motivated athlete," Santa Fe head track coach Phil Torres said. She was always one of the first to arrive and the last to leave. Her "lead by example" attitude rubbed off on the rest of the team."

"I would say the highlight of her high school athletic career was being named as Santa Fe's "Female Athlete of the Year" at the school's farewell assembly.'

Chiefs basketball coach Leonard Romero echoed the same for Hernandez.

"I'm so proud of him," Romero said. "I was so excited to put down all of his accomplishments during his four years.

"How many more Andrew's can I get over time? With 'Drew's leadership he got it and the rest of kicked in my anxiety that constantly had for six years," she said.

As a freshman on the varsity, she set the school record in the 3-Mile and helped her team advance to CIF for the first time since her older sister, Sabrina, had led Santa Fe to CIF 13 years prior.

Later that year, she became the Del Rio League champ in the 800 and qualified for three events in CIF – 800, 1600 and the 4 x 400.

She also went to USATF Junior Olympic Nationals for Cross Country in her freshman year.

After becoming captain in her sophomore year, Viramontes was determined to become league champ in Cross Country.

She accomplished the feat by defeating the No. 1 runner from La Serna, Maddie Franco, at the finish line by a nose.

"When it came down to league finals, I doubted myself a lot and didn't know if I could pull off becoming league champ as a sophomore," Viramontes said. "But that's where the support of my family, friends, coaches, and teammates come in. They really supported and believed in me and that really gave me a boost of confidence.

"At the last 60 meters I could hear my coach and my dad yell, 'go, kick now,' and that's when I went for it."

The pandemic interrupted her sophomore year of track, as it did for all of CIF and that almost derailed her for the sport.

"During this time it was hard for me to stay disciplined with the uncertainty of a track/cross country season and I would be lying if I said I didn't think about quitting multiple times," explained Viramontes. "But I pushed through it and had a mini Cross Country season.'

Highlighting her junior year of Track, she became the two-time defending league champion in the 800 and won the 1600, while posting a PR in CIF with a 5:18.

Four-year varsity for Cross Country and Track and Field, team Captain for both Track & Cross Country for the last 3 years, qualified for CIF (Track) over the last three years for the 800, 1600 and 4x400 relay events, 2018-19 DRL Female Athlete of the Year, school records in the 800 and 1600, 24th D2 CIF finals at Mt. SAC and undefeated in the DRL (XC and T& F).

Viramontes will continue her education and attend Cal State Fullerton in the fall.

Andrew Hernandez

"What it means to win this award is unimaginable, but also

"My first experience of freshman basketball at Santa Fe started in the summer and it was a fun and memorable time.'

Hernandez soon got the chance to play varsity as the season started.

"As the season for basketball came closer, I was given the chance to play varsity basketball," he said. "I knew it was going to be a challenge seeing how fast they played, how tall everyone else was compared to me, and the skill difference."

Beginning with his sophomore year, Hernandez was all set to join the Track team, but his teammates suggested Volleyball.

"Freshman vollevball was a quick season, but it became a new sport that I became well at quickly and I was excited about another season," said Hernandez, who became close to his new coach Comer.

exceeded the expectations and we were an underdog the whole season," Hernandez added. "We managed to turn a 1-8 season my junior year into a 5-3 season along with making it to the second round of playoffs."

In his final semester of his senior year, Hernandez decided to finally try Track and Field, as he joined the jump and sprint teams.

He competed in the long jump, high jump, 4x100, and the 100. In his first season in track, he made the league finals with a jump of 19-9.

Hernandez started the season at the varsity level competing in four events – 100, long jump, high 1837: A system of civil registration of births, marriages and deaths was established in England and Wales.

1863: The Battle of Gettysburg began. The battle involved the largest number of casualties of the entire Civil War and is often described as the war's turning point due to the Union's decisive victory.

the (basketball) team followed and finished.

"To have him go up and participate in track was pretty awesome. Try something new, I told him."

Both Hernandez and senior basketball player and friend Mike Rodriguez were on the Track and Field team in only their senior seasons

Romero also noted that the last three Male Athletes of the Year were on the basketball team – Jason Givens, Joey Peralta and Hernandez.

"It's what they put into it on and off the court," he added.

In addition, Torres added his praise for Hernandez' only year competing in track and field.

"Regarding athlete Andrew Hernandez, we (my jump coaches and I) got the opportunity to work with (him) his senior year, that's when he decided to come out for track," Torres said. "He was recruited by basketball coach Leonard Romero following his final season of basketball.

"I can only imagine if Andrew had started track his freshmen year.

Two outstanding studentathletes, two outstanding individuals. Here are their stories.

Kayla Viramontes

Kayla started her running career at the age of 12, but watching the Olympics years earlier was actually the springboard that propelled her to the sport.

"I remember watching the Olympics, specifically track and field, and wanting to be just like them," said Viramontes. "My brother and I would set up books in the hallway and jump over them like we were the hurdlers on TV."

Viramontes, who would then join a club team in Downey (Instride) from the urging of her mother, said of the beginning of a six-year career, "I felt constant pressure from my parents to do really well in the sport, which also

In her senior year in Cross Country she completed her goal of a three-time league champion and thanks her coach, Robert Ramirez, for supporting her.

The first race of the season was the Cool Breeze Invitational and she broke her PR with a time of 17:52 in the 3 Mile.

"I couldn't have done that without coach Bob (Ramirez)," she added. "I seriously believe that if he wasn't there in that moment of me feeling tired and wanting to give up, I wouldn't have gotten the time I did."

Viramontes also added about coach Ramirez - "More specifically, coach Bob, he's been there through all of my ups and downs and without him I wouldn't have accomplished the things I did throughout all of my four years. He will forever have a special place in my heart."

In track and field as a senior, she defended her 800 title (3-time champ), was a two-time defending league champ in the 1600 and broke a school record in the mile with a time of 5:07.

She again made it to USATF (cross country) and became an All-American finishing 4th in the 17-18 division.

"Track and Cross Country taught me a lot," concluded Viramontes. "I wouldn't be the person I am today without it.

"I also want to recognize my friends and family for always supporting and believing in me, but I especially want to thank my coaches."

Torres summed up her career.

"Regarding athlete Kayla Viramontes, I had the privilege of working with her for the last four years," Torres said. "Coach Ramirez and I had previously worked with her older sisters in both Cross Country and Track, so we knew their running capabilities and mental attitudes regarding competition."

Notable highlights:

rewarding," Hernandez said. "It is unimaginable because if I told my freshman self that I would win this award, I wouldn't (have) believed myself. It was rewarding because I have worked so hard at all the sports I've competed in.

"As a student-athlete, the student comes first and I was able to manage my school work and athletics very well. I made sure I was on top of my notes and doing my homework every night, even if it meant staying up late. Along with being in ASB for two years, I made sure that whatever assignment was given to me, it would be done as soon as possible. All my student effort led me to have a cumulative GPA of 3.67.'

In addition to playing varsity all four years on the basketball team, Hernandez was on the freshman football team, played varsity Volleyball for coach Chris Komer in his freshman and junior years, and Track and Field in his senior year.

"He's legit and he has come a long way," Romero said. "He was with me since his freshman year on varsity and in his sophomore year he was the leader of the team."

At the end of his sophomore year, Hernandez was voted the Most Improved Player.

After the 2020 season when the pandemic hit, the 2021 season didn't start until Spring and Romero noted that everything got better.

"He was a front runner and our leader that season," added Romero.

Things improved for the team the next season, as the Chiefs finished second in the DRL.

"Going into the summer before his senior season, the progression and leadership of 'Drew was awesome," Romero said. "He had 120% to do with what we did this past year as we finished second in league."

Basketball was Hernandez' first love and he made the varsity in his freshman year.

"First, coming into high school I had my sights set on joining the basketball team," Hernandez said.

It was back to basketball in his sophomore season and he felt more prepared, but still not where he wanted to be as a player.

"I played most of the season as a sixth man until the second half of the league," Hernandez added. "Coach Romero switched around the lineup and I played starting point guard.

"At the start of the second half of the season we were 2-2 and with this switch, we ended the season 5-3."

As the starting point guard for the season-ending, he experienced the pressure of the one and learned to adapt.

His sophomore year of Volleyball was shortened due to the pandemic with only one game played.

After nearly 11 months without sports, the Spring of 2021 became all bunched up with the traditional Winter sport of basketball now being played in the Spring, along with Volleyball.

Therein lied a problem for many an athlete trying to decide which sport to play.

Hernandez chose to play both basketball and volleyball.

"That season of sports was by far the toughest of my four years at Santa Fe," he said. "This was because practices were back-toback or I had a practice than a game or I missed practices of one sport.

"There was a major struggle with the basketball team that season and I only hoped that next season (Fall 2021) would be different," he explained. "However, for volleyball that season we made CIF but came up short."

Hernandez enjoyed his last season of basketball after the team struggled in his junior year.

"The team did so well and we jump and the 4x100 once in a while.

"As we got into the league meets, we narrowed it down to keep him in the jumps," Torres said. "I believe all those practices on the basketball court paid off.'

Notable accomplishments:

High Jump: Had PR of 5 feet 6 inches at the Condor Invitational, then finished off the season with 5 feet 5 inches at league finals where he finished 5th in league.

100 Meters: Ran a PR of 12.4

Long Jump: Hernandez started with a jump of 16-2, then ended with a season best 19-9 in league finals. He improved over the course of the season 3-7 inches.

Torres said of that accomplishment: "When I think of the fact that Andrew jumped 3 feet 7 inches further than his first jump back in February, I think of Bob Beamon's incredible long jump back in the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City. There's a term for it ... "Beamonesque."

"Throughout my tenure in sports, I had coaches who helped me be successful," Hernandez said. "Coach Romero was my biggest help at Santa Fe. I knew him before entering high school and my relationship now is something many had with a coach. Not only has he helped me as a basketball player, but as a young man too.

"Another coach that comes to mind is Coach Chav. He was my assistant basketball coach and not only did he teach me discipline, but how to view situations differently."

Hernandez spoke of his times at Santa Fe: "Memories that I would like to speak of at Santa Fe are the crowds at basketball games. The energy was different during my senior year and I loved hearing the cheers, screams, and applause from them. I thank my fellow Chieftains for providing me with the best senior year.'

Hernandez will attend Rio Hondo and eventually wants to attend a four-year college majoring in mechanical engineering.

1922: A nationwide strike of railroad workers began in the United States. A federal injunction against striking, assembling and picketing eventually broke the strike.

1931: United Airlines began service as Boeing Air Transport.

1963: ZIP codes were introduced for United States mail.

1972: England hosted its first gay pride parade.

1979: Sony introduced the Walkman portable music player.

1984: The PG-13 rating was introduced by the MPAA.

1987: WFAN in New York City was launched as the world's first allsports radio station.

1997: China resumed sovereignty over the city-state of Hong Kong, ending 156 years of British colonial rule.

2002: The International Criminal Court was established to prosecute individuals for genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes, and the crime of aggression.

2007: England banned smoking in all public indoor spaces.

Reflecting on July 4

By Mario A. Guerra Contributor

his year we celebrate the 246th anniversary of our nation's independence. Armed conflict between bands of American colonists and British soldiers first broke out in 1775, more than a year before we declared our independence. So, interestingly enough, your Army is a year older than the nation it defends.

That's why it's impossible not to think about our nation's independence without also thinking about the United States Army which secured it. And as we mark our country's 246th birthday, let us reflect upon the strength of those early patriots.

Their spirit that Independence Day 2022 is carried on today in the hearts and minds of our Army Soldiers and Department of the Army Civilians. They have demonstrated that when it comes to our nation's freedom and liberty, they embody the words of our Army motto, "This We'll Defend."

The Army has defended America in every conflict since the Revolutionary War, promoting freedom for all, a concept originally enshrined in the Declaration. In early June of 1776, the Continental Congress met in Philadelphia to discuss the prospect of formally separating from Great Britain.

Even after years of heavy taxes and oppression, not everyone was in favor of independence. After about a month of debate, and after a committee drafted a statement justifying independence from Great Britain, on July 2, 1776, the Continental Independence Day 2021. Congress voted to become independent of Great Britain.

On July 4, they adopted the Declaration of Independence. We have the blessing of hindsight and know the Revolutionary War was a success, but at the time, members of the Continental Congress were not certain that the country – this new country, one they would have to fight for – would be successful. And, after all, they were committing treason in the eyes of Great Britain.

When Benjamin Franklin signed the Declaration, he spoke for many of those in the room when he said, "We must all hang together, or most assuredly, we will all hang separately." Our Founding Fathers did not take treason lightly, but they firmly believed in the arguments laid out in the Declaration and, 11 years later, the concepts in the Constitution: "We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, ensure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

And over the years, we have added a Bill of Rights and a total of 27 Amendments to the Constitution to further enshrine and expand what it means to be an American. The right of a free press, the right to vote, to peacefully assemble, the state not promoting any one religion, the right to a speedy trial by a jury of one's peers and protections for citizens are all things that new citizens to our country cite when asked why they wanted to become Americans.

With the privileges accorded to us by the Constitution, we have both civic duties and civic responsibilities to ensure our freedom is protected. As citizens of this great country, we have the civic duty, for example, to participate in the democratic process by voting and serving on juries when we are called.

Our civic responsibilities are a little different. As citizens, we have a responsibility to stay informed of current events and encourage social participation in our democracy. We have a responsibility to make our communities better places to live and work, and we have a responsibility to volunteer and give back to our communities.

This is part of what it means to be an American, and it's why we celebrate Independence Day. The Fourth of July, our Independence Day, is about the freedom that we enjoy as Americans.

But that freedom did not come easy. This year, as we commemorate our independence, let's remember how hard our ancestors fought so we could be free. They fought in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 to ensure we could be free to govern ourselves.

Ever since our first days as an independent nation, an unbroken line of courageous men and women have guarded our freedom from the battlefields of distant lands to cyber and space. Freedom, as the saying goes, isn't free. It's very costly. It costs money, it costs lives, and it costs time.

The United States – our great nation – did not become what we are in one day, one month or one year. It took more than two centuries of effort and hard work to get to where we are today. The dream of our Founding Fathers was to make America the prime example of real freedom in this world. The struggle to attain this goal, and to be worthy of their vision and sacrifice, has sometimes been difficult, but it's a struggle worth fighting for.

We are a country constantly working to become a more perfect union, with our citizens embodying the light and the hope of our founding documents. If we continue to do better...and we must do better...then we truly do get closer to fulfilling our principles of liberty, equality, and justice.

Our future is in our own hands. It is in the choices we make, each and every day. And it rests within each of us, trying to be better persons for ourselves and those around us...for our communities and society...for our nation and the world.

I'm reminded of the words of President Abraham Lincoln, who also lived in a turbulent time, and knew the value of his country: "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live so that his place will be proud of him."

We are proud of our men and women who serve this nation, and we are proud to be part of a nation that prizes freedom above all else. God bless you America, and Happy Birthday.

Whittier considers prosecuting local misdemeanor cases

WHITTIER - The Whittier City Council is looking into prosecuting local misdemeanor offenses in response to special directives issued by the Los Angeles County District Attorney that appear to contradict voter-approved ballot measures.

The City Council, at its meeting on Tuesday, is drafting a potential ballot measure to allow Whittier voters to decide if the city should prosecute misdemeanor cases and modify the city attorney's powers and duties to include the prosecution of local misdemeanors.

The City Council cited numerous interactions with the office of L.A. County District Attorney George Gascón to support Whittier's strategic plan goal of enhancing public safety and protecting the community, according to a release from the city.

The council adopted a resolution expressing a vote of no confidence in Gascón on April 24, 2021. The council also, in March 2022, directed staff to send a letter to Gascón's office requesting that Whittier be allowed to prosecute its own misdemeanor violations. Long Beach, Pasadena and Torrance have made similar requests.

"We have a responsibility to our residents to ensure that the laws to protect and enhance the quality of life in Whittier are upheld and enforced," Mayor Joe Vinatieri said in a statement. "While we will continue working with the District Attorney, we ultimately believe our community members directly impacted by these policies should have the opportunity to make the decision at the ballot box in November."

The City Council will revisit the resolution to add the charter amendment to the statewide ballot at its next meeting on July 12.

The measure could be added to the ballot for the election in November if approved. It would not obligate the city to prosecute its own misdemeanors, but provide flexibility should the City Council wish to do so, according to the release.

Women pay a greater price for freedom than men

By Tressie McMillan Cottom

Roe has been doctrine my entire life. When I graduated high school, the senior year photographs were included in a memory book. One of the pages invited us to imagine our careers and salary 10 years in the future. I predicted I would be a lawyer earning a very realistic $35,000 a year. I was not stupid. I knew that race and gender might make that much harder to achieve. It never occurred to me that I should temper my aspirations because I was a girl.

In one lifetime, Roe had pushed women so fully into the paid labor market that it was normal for high school seniors to be asked to answer a genderless prompt about their economic aspirations. Flipping through that book today feels like reading a fairy tale, the old Grimms' ones and not the new Disney ones.

I grew up choosing where and how I work because Roe v. Wade gave me many of the same basic rights of personhood as men, for example. Millions of women have, to different degrees, been able to do the same.

With Roe v. Wade toppled, we do not have the same rights in all labor markets. In a global market, an empowered worker is one who can migrate. With Dobbs, women cannot assume that we can safely work in Idaho the same way that we can in Oregon or Washington. I cannot negotiate wages or time off with an employer with the same risk profile as those who cannot become pregnant. An employer who offers lower pay in a state with abortion care indirectly benefits from women's inability to take our labor on the open market across the nation. Thanks to a rogue court, women's lives are now more determined by the accidents of our birth than they were a week ago

Those accidents of birth include circumscribing women's lives by making them dependent upon corporate beneficence. Some companies, including Dick's Sporting Goods, immediately issued statements that they would offer reimbursements to employees for traveling for abortion services. The largess of Dick's and other companies is noteworthy. But it requires women to disclose their health status to a boss they have to hope is well meaning. That says nothing of also hoping that corporate management or leadership does not change. Well-meaning employers can come and go. They also vary in how well meaning they are in terms of pledges of their employee support.

Months before the decision was officially handed down, Starbucks also issued a statement vowing support for employees who seek abortion care. But its statement adds that it cannot guarantee that benefit to workers in unionized stores. Union drives at Starbucks have increased worker power. Many of those workers are women and people who can become pregnant. Potentially attaching support for abortion care to nonunionized labor is a perfect example of why corporations should not be arbiters of human rights.

The majority opinion in Dobbs argues that it is merely making the right to an abortion a state's decision. In reality, the justices are making it a corporation's privilege. A society cannot be held together when half of a population has to rely so heavily on the kindness of strangers to do something as basic as work.

pay than men, yes. But any paid work made us more free by making us more whole in the eyes of courts and institutions.

Today we pay a greater price for that freedom than do men. And it is a price that our children will inherit. Many of the people who celebrate the Dobbs decision are nostalgic for a pre-World War II American economy. That economy kept women from competing with men in the paid labor market. It also relied on unions to protect working-class men's incomes. That economy is gone. This economy will not magically provide good jobs and good wages for men who will pass that on to their wives and children.

As a Black woman, I inherited the debts that white racism exacted upon the livelihoods of my grandparents and great-grandparents and their great-grandparents. I know well what that inheritance feels like. It makes your life poorer. It makes your communities poorer. And it dooms a society.

That we are all less free than we were on Thursday is, even by now, a cliché. But in fact that is more true for poor women and trans men than for others. Do not mistake the specific harm for localized harm. When women cannot move freely across this nation, sure that they have basic human rights as they migrate, we are all anchored to the poverty of their choices.

There are even worse days ahead. By all accounts, the overturning of Roe v. Wade is just the beginning of decisions that could reverse hard-won human rights for all Americans. Justice Clarence Thomas indicated that L.G.B.T.Q rights, birth control access and health care privacy may be in the court's cross hairs.

I am still reeling from waking up in a new world. But that feeling cannot solidify into inertia. We can and should donate to organizations that provide abortion services in local communities. At the same time, donations will not save us. Consumer citizenship has trained us to think about our politics as a set of transactions that we can purchase like we do a car or a new pair of shoes. Restoring human rights will require direct political engagement and tremendous resistance. I am not particularly hopeful.

Justice Samuel Alito wrote the majority decision. Journalist Stephanie Mencimer wrote in Mother Jones that it was always "going to be Alito" who would write the majority decision. Alito says that the court cannot be concerned with how its decisions affect people. Linda Greenhouse in The Times described the opinion as arrogant. I expect arrogance from a conservative court. It is more important to me that the decision is so bold.

This is a court unafraid of the electorate and unashamed of showing its hand. The emperor does not care that he wears no clothes. Nancy Pelosi reads a poem. President Biden issued a tepid commitment to women's rights. No one seems afraid of the people. That is the people's fault

The fight now shifts to the states, where many legal scholars do not know how to interpret this new reality. Some states are struggling with who has what authority. Other states want to refuse to enact Dobbs's dictates but do not know how. We should be there to determine what a life after Roe v. Wade will look like. It will be hard. Setbacks are certain. But there is no other way forward and so many ways backward.

Cerritos College negotiations

Dear Editor:

Cerritos College Faculty Federation (CCFF) is happy to see the movement the Cerritos College District provided since faculty have shared our frustrations and disappointment with the community.

Although the proposal provided by the Cerritos College District seemed fair on paper, the Cerritos College District failed to disclose that the California legislature has already provided an ongoing 5.07% increase to Cerritos College. This 5.07% is a cost of living adjustment that was meant to be passed down to all employees, to offset the crippling inflation we are experiencing.

What the Cerritos College District did not say is that instead of giving their employees true salary increases, this proposal provides the bulk of the funding as a "one time" stipend. Providing a "one time increase" means that employees will lose out on more than $100,000 in retirement because those stipends don't count toward employee's retirement funds.

What the Cerritos College District omits in their response is that the state of California has determined that the Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) for 2022-23 is 6.56%. The Cerritos College District is offering only a 4% salary increase next year. This means they are pocketing another 2.5% of the state funding that is meant to be allocated for employees.

It is worth mentioning that, yes, CCFF agrees that the Cerritos College District has provided a formal offer to the Cerritos College Faculty Federation on June 2, 2022. Unfortunately, this proposal is not reasonable, not fair, and not equitable. This proposal does not take into account the employees who dedicate their lives to this college.

As a labor union, CCFF is advocating for our members' immediate livelihood and ensuring that our members can afford groceries, rent and utilities when they retire.

Dr. Lynn Wang CCFF President

Dear Editor:

I have taught at Cerritos College for 18 years. By responding to April Bracamontes's letter about the labor dispute there with a detailed proposal (which is not even official any longer!), the District willfully violated labor law, which prohibits either party from breaking the confidentiality of what was discussed unofficially in mediation.

Clearly this District—which has record reserves—will stop at nothing to distort the record and to disrespect faculty for the amazing work we have accomplished during the pandemic. They are worse than bad-faith negotiators; they have become malign negotiators.

Taxpayers should be appalled.

Ted Stolze

Professor, Cerritos College

Dear Editor:

Cerritos College Board of Trustees just this June unanimously voted to extend President Jose Fierro's tenure for four more years at about $250,000 annually, a quarter of a million dollars.

In the Norwalk Patriot article, Board of Trustee leader James Cody Birkey enthusiastically exclaimed how President Fierro supports our students and faculty. It is obvious to anyone in passing that students and faculty are the main interface for any educational institution, such as Cerritos College. With this in mind Fierro and the Board of Trustees have withheld the COLA (cost of living allowance) sent from the State of California for faculty members in 2021 and 2022, and refuse to discuss these monies with faculty. Further, Fierro and the board have a judgement against them made by PERB, Public Employment Relations Board, regarding their negotiating in bad faith with the Cerritos College Faculty Union, during past negotiations. Also, the board and Fierro have illegally broken confidentiality during negotiations, stalled negotiations to a snail's pace for over two years, leaving faculty without a contract for this period and the foreseeable future.

Economics, labor and jobs matter for more reasons than money. Jobs and income are the basic units of U.S. citizenship, in practice. Jobs are how we earn dignity. Income is one way we fund the state, through taxes and production. Jobs are also how the state provisions its responsibility to us, by relying on employers to deliver goods like health care and social security.

For only 58 years of the nation's 246-year-old economy, women have been able to avail themselves - thanks to Title VII of the Civil Rights Act - of the full citizenship that we effectively purchase through our jobs. We have been able to migrate from the South to the North and the West, seeking better wages and more opportunity. Abortion access afforded women more and better economic opportunities, and those economic opportunities made women more viable in the eyes of the law. We have cobbled together economic opportunity, albeit for less

No regrets

Dear Editor:

This April 2022, my husband and I celebrated 50 years of our marriage. We have two wonderful sons and two lovely grandchildren.

Looking back 50 years, to April 1972, when we were newlyweds, my Bolivian-born husband, Guido, now a U.S citizen, had come here as a foreign student hoping to become a lawyer after finishing a year of law school in his country. Shortly after our marriage, he applied for U.S. residency. He was just starting college here. I had finished my BA in Social Sciences at San Diego State University two months earlier.

We were living with my parents as we had no money. He got a Gina Grissom job as a journalist with a small Spanish language newspaper but the pay was very low. I was looking for a job.

I had just started taking birth control pills. Soon after I began feeling nauseous. One of Guido's friends suggested I might be pregnant. I thought, no way, I had been very careful. But he was right, I was pregnant. We had no intention of having a baby until we were more financially stable. My mom took me to a place nearby where I got an abortion.

My husband finished his university studies and got a job as a teacher with LAUSD where he worked for over 30 years. We raised our two children and Guido retired over 10 years ago.

My husband's father, being a farm owner and a very faithful Catholic, had 25 children with three wives (he was widowed twice and remarried each time). His first wife died in childbirth, giving birth to their 12th child.

I know that families nowadays need to prevent so many births as we are already overpopulated on Earth. We are depleting the Earth's natural resources and worsening pollution-caused climate change with human activities. I am one of the approximately one in four women in the U.S. who have had an abortion.

My husband and I have no regrets and I am horrified that many young women now will be forced to carry unwanted pregnancies to term or go to illegal back alley abortion providers risking their lives and their health.

Jan. 6

Dear Editor:

The invasion of the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6, 2021 should not and would not have happened if Trump and some of his minions had not deliberately plotted to overthrow the democratically elected government of the United State of America.

Every time I hear a Republican legislator say it is "time to move on" from January 6, 2021, I immediately think that that person must have something to hide. Who in their right mind can object to an in-depth investigation of such a horrific act? Only someone with a guilty conscience, or who may be afraid of being found out.

Thankfully, as we are now hearing, there were also a number of honest Republicans who did their duty to the country and did not cave in to pressure from those evil-doers who wished to overthrow democracy.

I seem to remember some people making a very big deal, along with chants of "lock her up," about Hilary Clinton's email server. So why now are now hearing no chants of "Lock Him Up - Lock Him Up - Lock Him Up?"

Curious isn't it?

Expand the court

Dear Editor:

Nowhere in the Constitution does it say that we have to have nine Supreme Court Justices. Nor would it require a Constitutional amendment to add more seats. In fact, Congress has expanded the Supreme Court five times throughout American history.

Congress should use its constitutional authority to rebalance the Supreme Court, which has been taken over by a supermajority that holds extreme views outside of the mainstream of legal thought and out of step with most Americans. That's why Congress must pass the Judiciary Act, which would add four seats to the Supreme Court and help stem the right-wing supermajority's attacks on our fundamental freedoms, including the right to access abortion care.

There's nothing stopping Congress from adding justicesexcept for the political will to do it, of course. In fact, recent polling showed that the majority of the American voters they represent support expanding the court.

That's why I'm urging Congress to pass to support the Judiciary Act of 2021 and add four seats to the Supreme Court.

When COLA for 2023 is due, it is expected that Fierro and the board will keep that money for themselves as well.

Lastly, Fierro, while celebrating his new 4-year contract, made this statement: "I am also thankful for our classified, confidential, and management teams and the Cerritos College community at large who share the same vision for helping our students to realize their goals and dreams.'

You notice there is zero reference to faculty. Fierro and the board paint a picture of college success by their hands alone, with some honorable mentions to a few, and absolute silence concerning faculty. I guess in their minds faculty are not needed at a college, or don't exist. It's hard to say what their angle is.

Due to these circumstances, a faculty strike is looming, since the board and Fierro are too busy congratulating themselves and ignoring faculty for going on three years.

Lastly, Covid-19 caused innumerable deaths and illnesses globally; my own Anthropology Department lost an adjunct instructor, Benjamin Fierro (no relation), to Covid-19. Covid-19 put extreme pressures on all educators to re-make courses for online only, a massive task, while current rising inflation is taking a different toll on us all. Meanwhile, the Cerritos College board and President Fierro gave themselves raises and bonuses in the past 2-3 years, but refuse to do anything like this for faculty.

Fierro and the board made our last negotiations for a contract in 2015-16 a torturous event, and have delivered another level of torture during these negotiations for 2+ years. That is their way, full of poor leadership and mistrust regarding faculty.

In closing, California is flush with money due to a record setting surplus, and Cerritos College has the largest money reserves for any community college in California, therefore the money is there to cover our modest pay increases, and COLA 2021 and 2022 came from the state.

We faculty need a new enduring climate of fairness and decency from the Board of Trustees and President Fierro, not insults, extortion, slights, tricks and stalling tactics.

Cerritos College faculty, staff and students all stand united against the Board of Trustees and President Fierro's treatment of faculty. The public needs to know these facts.

The surge comes after a Supreme Čourt ruling last week limiting states' ability to regulate who can carry a concealed weapon.

LOS ANGELES - The number of people applying for concealedweapon permits in Los Angeles County has begun to rise following week's Supreme Court last decision easing restrictions on them, the sheriff said Wednesday, adding that the county could potentially see as many as 50,000 such permits ultimately issued.

Such a number would be a staggering increase over past years, when the county -- following state regulations -- required applicants to show good cause to obtain such a permit, and the number issued was traditionally a few dozen each year.

U.S. Supreme Court struck down a longstanding New York requirement, similar to California's, requiring people to show a "special need" to carry a concealed weapon, beyond a simple desire for self- defense.

Gun-rights advocates have hailed the ruling as removing an undue restriction on gun ownership. Opponents said the ruling will lead to more guns on the streets, endangering the public.

Speaking in an online briefing Wednesday, Sheriff 1,364 currently pending. Alex Villanueva said Los Angeles County has long adhered to "good cause" standard the when considering concealed weapon permit applications. He acknowledged that some counties distributing them, operating under the premise that they "shall issue" the permits as long

Last week, however, the as applicants meet the basic (residents). So we're probably requirements.

> Well, now we are retooling our operation to a 'shall issue' standard, so bear with us as we go through it," Villanueva said. "We're already seeing an increase in applications being submitted. requirements are still in place And we had already moved in that direction since I took office."

> The number of concealed weapon permits issued has been on the rise under Villaneuva's administration. He said Tuesday or obviously a convicted felon, the agency has already issued 3,145 such permits, with another

'So our output is increasing," he said.

... I think when it's all said and done, if we're comparing our numbers to the surrounding have been more liberal about counties, they might have anywhere from 8,000-10,000 `shall-issue' permits in a county of maybe 1 million or 2 million looking at something in the neighborhood of 50,000 CCW permits in the (Los Angeles) County for a population of 10 million."

He stressed that basic to obtain a permit, including training requirement and background check.

"You can't be subject of a restraining order, mental illness those type of things that disqualify you," the sheriff said.

said the He sheriff's department will be reaching out to neighboring law enforcement agencies to help expedite the processing of such permit applications, possibly through a sharing of personnel to work on reviewing the applicants -- "to see how we can work out the logistics of this to facilitate the process for everyone involved."
